The Glad Yuletide

By DAVID K. HART, JR.

Talk about the joyous Christmas with its blossoms in the trees. With the snowing and the long hours of the little houses here. Rising in all the sweetness of the orchard over there. And the smiling breezes blowing little red noses everywhere. Yet there's something more heart-thrilling in the Yuletide's silver chime. Calling all hearts to be merry for the joyful Christmas time.

O, the freshly scented summer with its blossoms soft and mild, And the laughing little brooklet dancing like a happy child. And the shimmer of the sunshine over all the happy land. Tossed grasses in the meadow, leafy wood so green and grand. Make you think there's nothing grander—summer is just superb. But it doesn't stir your pulses like the happy Christmas time!

O, the happy days preceding, when there's secrets everywhere, Love-light beaming in all faces, dawning on all petty care. There's a love and life and light. And the shimmer of the sunshine over all the happy land. There's harmony and gladness that the summer never guessed. There's a something most appealing in the Yuletide's silver chime. That makes every heart beat happy for the joyful Christmas time!
